How can I present the École normale supérieure in just a few words? I should speak of its tradition, name some of its most famous students (from Césaire to Bourdieu, Sartre, Foucault or Jacqueline de Romilly, from Kastler to Cohen-Tannoudji, Ngô Bao Châu and Jean-Pierre Serre); I should mention the charm of its legendary buildings (a school of the French Republic housed in a kind of medieval cloister); I should also mention its singularity, because in spite of its small size (2,400 students, including the doctoral students and international students) the ENS stands out as one of the world’s very best universities. I should also mention its situation at the core of a network of Parisian universities and institutions and its involvement in the setting up of PSL Research University Paris; I should also go back over its tremendous growth during the last decades, thanks to its exceptional research centers in which students are directly in contact with the major issues of cutting-edge research.

Nevertheless I think that, in spite of all these elements, the essential would be missed: intellectual freedom, customized courses, synergies between Arts and Humanities and Sciences, ad hoc seminars, the priority given to the tutorships, the rich Parisian intellectual life, and, of course, those all-night discussions between the rosebushes and the pond in the Cour aux Ernests (with its legendary goldfish)...

But the École is first and foremost what its students and researchers who work there make of it. As you prepare to enter this place for the first time, you can be sure of being truly a part of the community of our École, you will help to make it lively, to shape it, to enrich it through your eyes, your ideas, your expectations; and from now on, we rely on you: welcome to the ENS, we hope you will feel at home!

WHAT IS THE ÉCOLE NORMALE SUPÉRIEURE?

The École normale supérieure is a French "grande école". It was founded in 1794, during the French Revolution, and its main purpose was to train secondary-school teachers. The present form of ENS dates back to 1985, with the merging of the École normale supérieure de la rue d’Ulm, for young men, and the École normale supérieure de jeunes filles, for young women (founded in 1882 and located in the Jourdan and Montrouge campuses). Now the École normale supérieure is a co-ed school preparing its students to teach and do research, but also to work in the government and even in public firms.

The French élèves normaliens receive a stipend during their four years of studies, but in return they have to work for the French state for six years after they have finished their studies at the École.

Since 2005, the École normale supérieure has also recruited 120 normaliens étudiants each year, on examination of their application. Most of these students come from universities or the French "classes préparatoires"; they receive no pay and their courses last three years.

The following students will obtain a degree:

• Elèves normaliens from the International Selection: 20 are recruited each year, after successfully passing two competitive examinations specifically for International Students, one in Arts and Humanities, the other in Sciences. Successful applicants receive a grant from ENS and a room on one of the School’s campuses. Their courses last three years.

• Elèves normaliens étrangers: they have passed one of the national competitive exams – all in French – to gain admission to the École. Successful applicants (all citizens of one of the European countries) benefit from the same status as the French élèves normaliens and are remunerated. They receive a grant from ENS and a room on one of the School’s campuses. Their courses last four years.

• Normaliens étudiants étrangers: they are recruited upon application and a motivation interview. They study here for three years, are not remunerated but they can obtain a room on one of the School’s campuses on social grounds (and if a room is available).

THE DIFFERENT STATUS OF THE INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

More than 20% of ENS students are international students, who contribute towards the vitality of the institution. The international students are divided into two groups: those who study at the ENS to obtain a degree, and those who study at ENS without obtaining a degree.

The following students will obtain a degree:

• from the International Selection: 20 are recruited each year, after successfully passing two competitive examinations specifically for International Students, one in Arts and Humanities, the other in Sciences. • Students who are enrolled in the School’s Master’s courses.

- Doctoral students who prepare a Ph.D. at ENS, in the doctoral school Paris Sciences et Lettres Research University: Physics in the Île-de-France doctoral school, the Interdisciplinary arts and humanities/sciences doctoral school, and the Astronomy and Astrophysics doctoral school.

The following students will not obtain a degree at ENS and do not have to validate ECTS credits:

- Pensionnaires étrangers: these students (about 100 each year) are enrolled at their home university (located abroad), and stay at ENS for up to a year. They come to ENS on an exchange program and obtain accommodation on one of the ENS campuses (in most cases).

- Auditeurs étrangers, who are at the École for one semester or one year on an exchange program or without an exchange program.

- Post-doctoral researchers, who come to ENS after obtaining their Ph.D.

The following students will not obtain an ENS degree but have to validate ECTS credits, under an agreement with their Home universities:

- ERASMUS+ students and interns (about 30 per year).
- Students enrolled in the Master’s at Columbia University (about 10 per year).
/ LESSONS AT THE UNIVERSITY

The French academic system is made up of different institutions. Among them two are prominent: universities and the grandes écoles. Theordonnance of 1923 created the grandes écoles, a group of schools (partially public and partially independent) that select (by competitive examination or inter-institutional examination) their students from outside the ENS. The other option, which is the more general one, is to study at ENS. Since the 1959 law, ENS students may study at universities or ENS for their first year of Master’s classes, after which they must study at ENS. The students who attend courses at both institutions are known as joint students and their theses are supervised by two directors, one from a French academic institution and the other from a foreign one. Doctoral students under joint tutorship are enrolled in both institutions and prepare their thesis alternatively in each institution.

/ LICENCE (BACHELOR), MASTER AND DOCTORAT (PH.D.)

There are three French university degrees: the licence (bachelor’s), the master and the doctorate. French people count each year separately starting from the year the high school degree was passed: thus the licence is called “Bac +3”, the master “Bac +5” and the doctorate “Bac +8”. The licence and master programs are strongly differentiated. Under the Bologna process, each successfully-completed semester earns 30 ECTS credits (European Credits Transfer System); consequently, each academic year earns 60 credits. Thus the licence degree comprises 180 credits and the master degree comprises 120 additional credits.

- The licence is prepared in three years after obtaining the baccalauréat. These years are known as L1 (first year of licence), L2 (second year of licence) and L3 (third year of licence). The aim of this program is to give students a basic grounding in a given discipline. Most of the students who enter the first year at ENS have already completed the L2 and prepare their L3 at ENS. Universities offer two types of licences: general and professional licence. ENS students may not enroll in a professional licence.
- The master is prepared in two years: M1 (first year of the master) and M2 (second year of the master). In Arts and Humanities, students have to attend lessons each year and also write a research paper of about a hundred pages, under the supervision of a dissertation director. At the end of each academic year, students have to present their work. The M2 research subject is in most cases the same as the one in M1, although it is still possible to change subjects and even the field of study between the two years of the master’s degree. In Sciences, students attend lessons during the first semester and do an internship, in France or abroad, during the second semester.
- The doctorate is prepared in three or sometimes four years. Students are called doctorants (or colloquially thésards) and have to write a doctoral thesis of about 300 pages on a specific subject. They conduct thorough research in a laboratory for Science students and generally in a library for Arts and Humanities students. The thesis is supervised by a thesis director and defends the outcome of their research during the thesis defense. After the thesis has been submitted and defended, the thesis director and thesis becomes a doctorant and is able to apply for post-doctoral positions or for (university lecturer) positions. Ph.D. students can prepare their degree either at the university or at ENS.

There are different types of Ph.D. contracts. Some offer remuneration to doctoral students, who in turn have to give lessons, or are assigned to the dissemination of scientific information, or to the development of research results, or receive a consultancy assignment. Doctoral students who receive no remuneration are not eligible for these assignments.

It is also possible to prepare a Ph.D. thesis with joint international tutors. In this case, the thesis is supervised by two directors, one from a French academic institution and the other from a foreign one. Doctoral students under joint tutorship are enrolled in both institutions and prepare their thesis alternatively in each institution. The language in which the thesis is written must be recognized as such in both institutions. After defending their thesis, the new doctors receive a dual degree or two joint degrees, according to the institutions’ regulations.

Students can also sign a Ph.D. contract in partnership with a firm: these contracts are called contrats CIFRE and are managed by the ANRT (Association nationale de la recherche et de la technologie). Future doctoral students can submit their applications at any time for a scientific research project in a firm, an association, a French regional administration or a consular chamber, provided that the chosen structure is established in France. To set up the contract, students must contact the pôle Contrat-recherche associated with their chosen structure. To obtain a visa to obtain a "scientifique-chercheur" (scientific research) residence permit, valid for more than three months.

REMINDER OF THE BENEFITS FOR PENSIONNAIRES AND INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

- Free access to all ENS lessons and seminars. Students may also enroll in a French university (contact the university for information about the lessons).
- Academic tutoring (called tutorat). All ENS students should have a tutor. On their arrival foreign students and pensionnaires should contact the representative of the International relations office to find a tutor (if they want to).
- Access to the ENS libraries – students must fill out the registration form of each library.
- Access to computer facilities (internet in the halls of residence, e-mail address, computer room).
- Access to cultural, arts and sports activities organized by the students’ union.
- Access to the ENS restaurant at subsidized prices.

NB: Each department has a representative for the International relations office. All foreign students must introduce themselves to one of the two representatives of the departments they have chosen; they must also introduce themselves to teachers and researchers whose research subject is related to what they are studying. They can take lessons and validate them, in accordance with their universities of origin, for the course they follow there.

All students, whether French or foreign, have to choose a tutor from the teachers of their department (they can choose one too). Each semester they also have to sign a learning agreement on the software called GPS.

The Service de la scolarité et des concours (SAE) is in charge of the relations with the préfecture, in particular for the visas and residence permits.
Here is a non-exhaustive list of academic institutions in which the normaliens can take lessons, attend seminars or do research.

Information on the detailed lessons program or the library opening hours is available in each institution concerned.

BEFORE YOU ARRIVE: FOR NEW STUDENTS

ADMINISTRATIVE FORMALITIES

RESIDENCE PERMIT

Applications for the residence permit are filled out at School during the induction day organized by the International Affairs Department and the SAE (Registrar’s Office), Wednesday, September 6.

Since the beginning of the 2003 academic year, all students who receive their first residence permit must pay a fee of €58 (this may increase) and must take a medical examination by order of the préfecture. This fee must be paid on the date on which the permit is granted: approximately a month and a half after the start of the academic year.

If you are renewing your residence permit made out by the Registrar’s Office, you must pay a fee of €50 directly to the préfecture, when you collect the permit.

NB: A biometric residence permit was introduced in June 2013. You will be requested to supply a fingerprint in order to obtain this.

VISAS

Nationals of countries in the European Union and the Swiss Confederation do not need a visa. In application of the law of 26 November 2003, they no longer need a residence permit.

Students from other countries must request a type D long-term student’s visa (CESEDA R311-3 6°) from the French Consulate in their country of origin or residence. The consulate will give you a VLSTS (long stay visa which acts as residence permit), and an application form for an attestation from the OFII (French Office of Immigration and Integration), which you must take to the Registrar’s office when you register. (Take the letter sent by the Head of International Relations at ENS to your consulate).

LANGUAGE ASSISTANTS

If you intend to ask for a position of language assistant in a secondary school (which is sometimes the case in exchanges with British or American universities), you should contact the French Embassy in your country and ask for a language assistant visa which you must take to the Registrar’s Office on your arrival. They will take care of the application procedures.

We remind you that your first salary will not be paid until three months after you take up your position.

Only the and some , can benefit from an accommodation in one of the dormitories of three campuses of Ulm, Jourdan and Montrouge. Rent is €315 per month. Some do not pay rent from September to June 30, but they must ask permission to the and must pay if they stay in July. NB: students in residence must take out a liability insurance and are strongly encouraged to open a bank account in a French bank.

For French and foreign , the School has around 60 rooms. These rooms are attributed for a maximum of one year according to students’ means during the application selection process, and in January between the two semesters. This accommodation is on one of the three ENS campuses or in a studio flat in a dormitory of the Crous (national-managed residences for students). The School can also find accommodation for students in need, depending on the level of urgency. If this is the case, students must inform the Director of studies of their department of their situation.

Students who have to find their own accommodation can call on the Crous residences (NB: you must ask for accommodation in March or April if you want accommodation in September), in private student dormitories or in private accommodation. The School’s website has housing information ( ), which can help you avoid some traps and find proper accommodation. Foreign students must provide their residence permit (for a period longer than 4 months) as soon as they receive it.

/RECEPTION AT THE ENS

- The ENS halls of residence are closed during the summer holidays. Reception is therefore not possible until Wednesday September 6 for the 3 halls. NB: it is not possible to collect your key during the weekend.
- International students receiving an accommodation grant from their university of origin MUST vacate their room by June 30, 2018. If they are only attending the first semester, rooms must be vacated by February 15, 2018.
- Only pupils and international students may live in halls of residence. Any incident or accident caused by or to a person not living in the halls is therefore likely to incur the liability of the resident who invited the unauthorized person.

COLLECTING YOUR ROOM KEY

When you arrive during opening hours and days, go to the reception desk at the hall of residence (Ulm, Jourdan, or Montrouge), where you will be given your key and all sorts of practical information.

/EQUIPMENT

Rooms are furnished and the various campuses have a certain amount of equipment to meet most needs. If you intend to bring electrical or electronic appliances (razor, hair dryer, radio, etc.), you should know that domestic electrical current in France is 50 Hertz and 220 volts. Make sure you have the correct adapters (sockets).

In principle, you should have no difficulty bringing personal belongings into France. However, to avoid problems, especially if you bring valuable equipment (photography, video, computers, etc.), bring the original invoices which you can if necessary present to the customs authorities with your passport and your certificate of acceptance to the ENS.

If you have to send heavy objects (books for example), be sure to arrange for them to arrive at the School after September 6th: deliveries cannot be taken during the school holidays. Please note that no parcels can be stored: you must therefore be present on the campus when your parcels are delivered.

The rooms are furnished (but do not have individual refrigerators). Bed linen and towels are not provided.

All the bedrooms have cable (Internet access and e-mail): ask the student representatives or the computer department: cri@ens.fr.

If on your arrival you notice anything wrong with your room, please inform the reception service immediately or send an email to: hebergement@ens.fr and/or logistique@ens.fr.

EVERYDAY LIFE

MEALS

The ENS has two restaurants, colloquially called pôts: one on the Ulm campus and the other on the Jourdan campus.

The price of a meal for all students, whatever their administrative status, is €3.80.

The two restaurants are open for lunch from 11.50 to 14.00; in the evening, only the Ulm restaurant is open, from 06.15 to 19.30 (please check with the restaurants).

In the morning, the Ulm restaurant serves breakfast from 7.30 to 9.20, for €1.70.

MAIL AND E-MAIL

All ENS students have a pigeonhole for mail on the Ulm campus (between the informatique (computer room) and the bédéthèque (comic book library). This is where the administration sends the forms to be returned to the registrar’s office (SAE).

The School communicates a lot by e-mail. On their arrival, all ENS students receive an e-mail address in the following form: firstname.lastname@ens.fr. As the administration and the departments essentially communicate by e-mail, you should check your e-mails very regularly.

It is important to check it regularly because ENS will send individual or group messages there. If you do not, it will automatically be canceled.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

You have to imperatively pass to the logistic service to obtain your multifunction card. This card gives you access to the buildings and the restaurants of the ENS, and includes you in the public directory. In case of an accident implying a person who is not included in the public directory, the École disclaims all responsibility. Moreover, each newly arrived person has to address the Computer resources center (CRI) in order to access the internet network of the ENS.
/ BANKS

You will very probably have to open a bank account in France. Most banks have a network of branches in Paris and in the provinces. You can open a non-resident’s account without any particular formalities.

If the bank in your country has a branch in Paris, opening an account and transferring money will no doubt be quicker than in another bank. The School has an agreement with the Société Générale, which makes it easy to open an account. This branch will be present on the first day of the semester.

Finally, international bankcards (American Express, Visa, Mastercard, etc.) may be useful in that they enable you to withdraw cash easily.

/ PUBLIC TRANSPORT

If you are under 26, you can get several reductions (Carte jeune, billets BIGE, Inter-Rail Card). Ask at the SNCF or Air France about how to obtain reduced-price tickets.

If you intend to travel widely in France or in Europe, ask for information at an agency in your country specializing in conditions for using the Euro-pass.

FOR TRANSPORT IN PARIS

2 season ticket systems are available:

- For people under 26: Carte Imagine R (approximately €300 a year): this will let you travel freely on the RATP networks (metro and bus) and the Paris section of the RER network (RATP and SNCF).

- For people over 26: Carte Navigo (approximately €700 a year, paid in monthly installments from your bank account): this will let you travel freely on the RATP networks (metro and bus) and the Paris section of the RER network (RATP and SNCF).

You can also buy tickets singly (about €2) or in booklets of 10 (about €14). The metro runs from 5am until 1:15am (and until 2:15am on Saturdays).

In general the RER runs until 12:30 or 1:00am.

Many buses however cease to run after 20:30 although certain lines run in the evenings and at night, others on Sundays. Just enquire!

/THE STUDENT’S ASSOCIATION: THE COF

WHEN YOU ARRIVE IN SEPTEMBER

You will meet the ENS student who is informally in charge of showing you around the ENS.

THE INTEGRATION WEEK-END: THE MEGA

In the 3rd week of September the COF organizes a three-day tour somewhere in France to allow newcomers to get to know each other.

The ENS is a very stimulating environment, with its open-access libraries, its numerous conferences on various subjects, and also its several students’ clubs and activities. For further information, have a look at the bulletin boards, read the student’s journal, the Bocal, and go to the informal events organized on the Ulm campus in September.

INFORMATION WEEKS

At the beginning of each academic year, the ENS organizes two information weeks for pupils from the 1st to the 4th year. Don’t miss these, as you will learn a lot about classes and life at the École. There will be lectures as well as compulsory tours of the departments, laboratories and libraries.
